

mimacom path services

The application and combination of the individual mimacom path modules is accompanied and supported by the mimacom path services. These will help to maximize the benefits of mimacom path and to tailor them to suit your needs.

Mimacom path services allows you access to extensive know-how in all areas of mimacom path – experts in every field are at your service, from the launch of a new application stack through to the execution of the first project using the Scrum process.

We support you with our resources and our experience.

Service management in accordance with ITIL

Once a project has been completed, another important part of the application lifecycle comes to the fore: operation and maintenance. mimacom path services offers the required support. From the transfer of know-how to the complete adoption of application management, we offer you customized solutions that are tailored to your project.

Consulting and training courses mimacom path services offers various packages that increase the quality and efficiency of your development teams. Over the course of a project, our project managers impart knowledge on methodology, technology and application lifecycle management.

By transferring know-how, we increasingly pass on our entire sphere of competence with its well-known high quality standard. Know-how should be imparted during the implementation and not be left until the project is completed.

Furthermore, mimacom offers training courses on topics such as Scrum and the technologies used for mimacom path.

Customer benefits

- Training on the application and adoption of the mimacom path modules
- Support with the launch and maintenance of software projects
- Access to highly qualified and established employees
- Fast and efficient transfer of know-how